FREE HIGH SCHOOL

We were fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. Geo. W. Earle in our High School. Under her direction, the work of the school has shown a marked improvement. The work of the pupils has been of high grade and their interest has been commendable. Attendance has been exceptionally good.

In this school we have one pupil doing standard second year work, five doing first year work, and seven doing sub-grade work, preparatory to taking up the first year of standard high school work, next fall. Altho this enrollment may seem small, yet it is as large as the average of the same class school throughout the State.

A course of study has been arranged, which will make it possible for a pupil to do three years of standard grade work here, thus requiring but one year of non-resident work to graduate from a Class A. School. In all ways the school is a credit to the town and presents an opportunity for the boys and girls to secure instruction in advanced studies, of which they might otherwise, be deprived. Consequently, we earnestly urge the continuance of this school.

COMMON SCHOOLS

Owing to the fact that attendance at the Plains and Wheeler schools, during the Spring term, fell below required average, it was necessary to discontinue these schools. The pupils on the Plains were conveyed to the school at Head Tide, during the fall term, but during the winter term, transportation of only one pupil to the Mills was necessary. The pupils formerly attending the Wheeler school have attended either the Carleton or Mills schools, with no cost to the town for conveyance. We commend them this help.

The greatest remuneration offered by other lines of work, coupled with the increased cost of living, has caused a severe shortage of teachers and a resultant demand for increased wages for teachers, throughout the country. In order to compete with other towns in securing and retaining competent teachers, it has been necessary for us to meet this demand to a certain extent. During the past summer, two of our teachers attended the school for teachers at Castine. The advantages in the services of trained teachers are so great that this spirit should be encouraged by paying sufficient wages to make it an object for all of our teachers to expend the time and money necessary to secure such training.

In general, the work of our school has been good. A tentative course of study has been arranged and a start made toward grading the work of the schools. Altho this plan could not be perfectly adjusted in all details in so short a time, nevertheless, good progress has been made and we feel confident that the plan, when perfected, will result in increased efficiency in our schools.

The accomplishment of this work has been retarded by the necessary closing of schools and the irregular attendance due largely to actual sickness of pupils or fear of the epidemic on the part of parents. We regret however that there has been a few instances of absence without apparent reason, and we earnestly request that during the coming year, parents will co-operate with us by using every possible effort to maintain the regular attendance of their children.

Work of teachers and pupils has been somewhat further handicapped by inadequate working material. While the schools are fairly well supplied at present, with basal texts, yet there is great need of supplementary material in the line of reading matter for all grades, reference books for outside work in geography, history, etc., maps and globes, and seat work for beginners. As this material is essential, if the best results are to be obtained in our schools, we ask that the appropriation for supplies be at least as large as that of last year.

During the year the following repairs have been made. The upper room at King's Mills was in such a condition that rather extensive repairs were necessary to make it fit for occupancy. To secure efficient light, two additional windows were placed in the end of the room. The ceiling was re-plastered; holes in the walls were patched and the walls papered. Blackboards, hitherto entirely lacking, were installed. All wood work was painted; the blackboards in the high school room were repainted, and both rooms were thoroughly cleaned, in short, everything necessary was done in an economical manner as was consistent with thoroughness.

At the Church school house the old seats were replaced by new ones, purchased from Arlington Grange. The interior was newly painted; wall paper was purchased, but was not put on owing to the scarcity of labor.

The Fowles building was shingled and papered. At the other buildings only the absolutely necessary minor repairs were made.

At present, our school buildings are in a condition, not conducive to the creation of proper ideals in children. Nearly all buildings need painting outside and in two cases, Lewis and Wheeler, clapboards are falling off. In several buildings interior walls need papering and painting, and blackboard space is inadequate. The seats in the Fowles and Carleton school houses are old fashioned, straight backed affairs, unattractive and uncomfortable, liberally decorated on the surfaces of the desks with skillfully carved initials of the fathers and grandfathers and of the present occupants, fit for preservation as curios, not for use in a modern school room. And there are many other improvements of a minor nature that are desirable. Since the school houses are the homes of the children for such a large part of each year, we firmly beleive that they should be kept as comfortable, neat and attractive as our own homes. Therefore, we strongly urge that a campaign of school house improvement be inaugurated whereby one or two school buildings are converted each year from the present "impossible type," to up-to-date buildings. If such a plan is followed, in a few years we shall have buildings of which we may feel proud.

In conclusion, we wish to suggest the following appropriations for school purposes:

Free High School	$ 500 00
Common Schools	1,200 00
Supplies	150 00
Repairs	300 00
Transportation of High School Pupils	150 00
